Senator Cameron, of this state, will take his wife to Colorado, in a few days, for the benefit of her health.

When you talk of Hoadly for president, the old bourbon democrats get mad. They haven't any special liking for the new comer.

The Chicago Tribune sits down on the dead languages in this fashion: "Student life is too short for antediluvian linguistic humbugs."

The fourth of July brought the usual number of accidents, many of them being distressingly fatal. Many were drowned, some were burned to death, others were killed by lightning, and a few met their death by accidents with powder. The toy pistol has not yet been heard from.

It has been said that if the newspapers would stop noticing duels, dueling would soon come to an end. That is square to the point. Nine-tenths of the so-called duels are "fought" simply to give the parties a little notoriety. They scarcely ever hurt one another, and the whole business is a piece of humbug.

When one looks over the political situation and takes a good observation of the democratic party, he will be led to confirm the statement of Henry Watterson, the brilliant democratic editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal: "We may be allowed to remark that the number of fools in the democratic party has not decreased to any encouraging extent."

Congressman Blackburn displayed his ignorance on the presidential question by giving the following to a newspaper: "I can name the next democratic ticket. Hoadly is going to carry Ohio by 20,000. That will make him the democratic candidate for president, and Cleveland, of New York, will be the democratic vice presidential nominee. The republicans will abandon party organization and nominate David Davis, and they will not carry seven states."

There is a report coming from Connecticut which seems too good to be true. It is said that Mr. Platt, of that state has refused a large fee from a corporation on the ground that he is a United States senator and that the duties of his office require all his time. This may be too nice a point for Senator Platt to make, and he may be regarded as an old fogy, but there is just enough justice and common sense in it to make the people cherish a good opinion of the man.

George H. Dunbner, of Waukesha, was taken to Chester, Illinois, on Tuesday, where he will he will serve his sentence of three years for obtaining his pension fraudulently. Judge Drummond in disposing of the motion for an arrest of judgment said that he would not interfere with the verdict of the jury, but would grant the writ of error which will hereafter be argued. It is not likely that the writ will result in anything advantageous to Dunbner, and the chances are that he will be compelled to serve his sentence.

WISCONSIN DEMOCRATS AND THE HOUSE ORGANIZATION.

The organization of the next house of representatives is early attracting the attention of the country, chiefly for the reason that the democrats will control that body. There is already a great strife going on among the democratic candidates for speaker and the strife is not without its bitterness. The Randall men are showing considerable activity, and are combining their forces in a way that gives much promise of success.

The Randall combination consists of Samuel J. Randall, of Pennsylvania, for speaker; John D. C. Atkins, of Tennessee, for clerk; and J. G. Thompson of Ohio, for sergeant-at-arms. The members of this copartnership have already done much canvassing, and Mr. Atkins came to this state recently to interview the democratic congressmen-elect. The interview probably proved satisfactory to the firm of Randall, Atkins & Co. Mr. Deuster has promised to vote for "Sunset" Cox, and therefore could not give the embassy any comfort; but in other quarters he fared more successfully. Joe Rankin would not say how he would vote on the speakership, and did not intimate whether or no he would support any part of the firm of Randall, Atkins & Co. But Joe is a good trimmer, and when he sees that Randall, Atkins and Thompson, will be on the top of the heap, he will be there, too. Joe doesn't often get left. He likes to ride a "loaded wagon," and will get on just in time, and so easily, that it will appear to the people that he was there all the time. Mr. Winans, has made no pledges, so he says, and at this time doesn't know how he will vote on the question of organization. He has no special love for Randall, probably because Randall is a protectionist, but he hasn't anything particular against the other members of the firm of Randall, Atkins & Co.

The visit of ex-Congressman Atkins, of Tennessee, to this state, was not fruitless. While nothing absolutely definite can be learned in regard to his interviews with the democratic members elect, it is said that he left the state with the assurance that five of the six democratic members will support the Randall firm.

Randall is a fine worker and a strong man. He has been in congress many years, has been speaker, and pretty thoroughly knows the ropes. Should he be elected, the democrats will not be able to abolish the tariff during his term as speaker. In this respect it will be a good thing to elect Randall whatever may become of the company.

SIN AND SORROW.

Massacre of a Colorado Board of County Commissioners by a Masked Mob.

Desperate Dash of Oregon Convicts for Liberty---Assassinated--- The Roll of Mishaps.

HOT SULPHUR SPRINGS, Col., July 5.—Four commissioners and County Clerk Grand, of Grand county, were all shot by a mob of masked men. Barney Day and Mr. Mills were instantly killed, and E. P. Webber and D. J. Dean, mortally wounded. Grand county lies in the northwestern part of the state, several miles from any telegraph station. News having to be conveyed by courier, it will probably be some time before any further news can be obtained or the cause of the trouble be learned. The citizens of Grand county have called on the governor for state militia.

DESPERATE CONVICTS.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 5.—Early yesterday morning the convicts employed in Goldsmith & Lowenburg's stove foundry in the Oregon state prison made a most desperate dash for freedom. Their actions were first noticed by George Fletcher, who stepped into the yard to inform the first warden, George Collins. Just at that moment John McKern and Gid Bechamp rushed out of the shops, followed by about fifty convicts armed with crowbars. The most desperate led. Collins and Fletcher were seized by the convicts and used as a shield from the guard at the west gate. They rushed to the small gate at the northwest corner, threatening to kill Warden Collins and Fletcher if the guard fired. Guard Stillwell fired into the crowd, the ball passing through the gate, killing Charles Brown, and at the same time Fletcher fired himself, closing the gates and preventing the remainder from escaping. The guard fired again, wounding McKern, one of the leaders. Enraged at Stillwell's marksmanship, Smith, of the gang, attempted to cut the warden's throat. Gobal, a turnkey, tried to save him, and in the scuffle Collins was clubbed with a tamping-iron. The prisoners were rushed from the building by the north and south entrances, and as they ran down the avenue Stillwell shot Ben Rivers and Jack Williams. McKern though he was twice shot, continued running, but a third shot dropped him. The gang crossed the creek and entered the forest. Fourteen in all got through the gate, three of whom were killed and three others wounded, leaving eight at large. They were the hardest characters in the prison. McKern's injuries were pronounced fatal. Rewards have been offered by the governor for the apprehension of the escaped, and a large body of men are scouring the country.

ASSASSINATED.

VINCENNES, Ind., July 5.—W. P. Hornbrook, a physician of Union, Pike county, Ind., well known throughout the state, was shot in his office and killed by Samuel Hemmings, a tenant. The murderer was followed and arrested. He claims that Hornbrook tried to debauch his wife. The murdered man was about 60 years of age, and a large land owner.

A BLOODY FIGHT.

CINCINNATI, July 5.—Joseph Miller lives near one of the dumps of the city, and his mother, wife, and relatives are among the scavengers getting a living from it. He has been out of town for some months, and returned yesterday, to find that North Lightfoot, a burly negro, had supplanted him in his wife's affections and in his house. Armed with an old-fashioned Colt's navy pistol, Miller burst in upon a Fourth of July party, consisting of his wife, Lightfoot and John Dan, his wife's nephew, and turned his artillery loose. The result was one of the hottest battles since Appomattox. Miller's mother rushed across the street and joined in the fray. Most of them used pistols and the rest bricks. Strangely enough nobody but Dan was shot, but old Mrs. Miller's leg was cut nearly off at the knee. She was pounded in the head with a brick and was badly cut with a razor. She will probably die. Dan was shot through the hand, and the rest were more or less injured. All were arrested but Lightfoot who escaped.

Casualties.

DROWNED.

NEW ORLEANS, July 5.—While two young ladies, daughters of a prominent Creole merchant of this city, Lucie and Regine Bernos, aged 18 and 15 years were playing upon the river bank near Pointe a la Hereche, a few miles below the city, the young girl, Regine, venturing to near the bank, fell over into the river. Her sister came up to rescue her but Regine pulled her over into the water also. The two girls were being carried out by the current, when a young man named Stone came up. He tried to rescue them, but himself fell a victim and was carried out in the river. Stone was finally rescued from the water, insensible, and revived with difficulty. Both of the young girls were drowned. Their bodies have not been recovered.

MILWAUKEE, July 5.—The man drowned in the Menomonee river near Falk's brewery, yesterday, was Mat Wuhl, an employe of Phillip Best Brewering company. Deceased was 28 years of age, and unmarried.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 5.—Two young men, Fred Ginkel and William Bronson, were drowned in White river while bathing.

FELL FROM A BALLOON.

SCRANTON, Pa., July 5.—During the celebration at Montrose, Prof. H. H. Ludlum, a balloonist, attempted to make an ascension. When at the height of forty feet the trapeze rope caught in a tree, hurling him violently to the ground. He struck on a rock, sustained a fracture of the skull and internal injuries, which it is thought will prove fatal. He now lies in a critical condition at the Montrose house.

SHOT THROUGH THE BREAST.

ERIE, Pa., July 5.—Yesterday afternoon Albert Kuhn, a well-connected young man, was riding on a street car with several companions, and being the worse for liquor a reckless fusillade was opened up from the car windows. Kuhn's revolver was loaded with ball cartridges, and as he fired Miss Mary Stelner, who was within line of the fire, received a bullet through her heart. Kuhn was arrested.

Frank, brother to Albert Kuhn, who shot Miss Stelner, committed suicide by hanging last night, being found dead in a cellar two hours after the fatal occurrence.

LOST AN EYE.

MILWAUKEE, July 4.—The casualties from explosions consequent upon the celebration are limited to a few, the most serious being the loss of an eye to a lad named Dandt, on Broad street, through the careless handling of a fire-cracker. The firemen had three calls for fires on the East and South sides. The loss in each instance was inconsiderable.

BURSTING OF A CANNON.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 5.—A peculiar explosion of a cannon occurred at Fergus Falls. The piece exploded at 6 o'clock, under the pressure of a heavy charge, and distributed its favors entirely among saloon-keepers. One piece flew east through the saloon building of Lufbb & Squires, passing immediately over the bar. A second went down Mill street across the intersecting avenue, and landed in the saloon of Barge & Rusten, crushing in the doors. A third fragment of cast iron, weighing fifty pounds, took a flight into the air and came down through the building of James K. O'Brien, landing in his room over his large saloon, while a fourth damaged the house of Eneuman, another saloon-keeper.

THE LIGHTNING'S VICTIMS.

GOODLAND, Ind., July 5.—While more than 2,000 people were congregated in the town park listening to a Fourth of July oration, a bolt of lightning struck a liberty pole standing within forty feet of the crowd, shivering the pole into fragments at the top and throwing large splinters about the park. No one was injured. A woman was slightly shocked. Several persons and horses were standing within ten feet of the pole.

MILWAUKEE, July 5.—During a thunderstorm a sad casualty occurred from lightning near the intersection of Grand avenue and Twenty-fifth street. William Damon, about 25 years of age, was driving along the avenue with a horse and buggy when the bolt encountered the outfit, killing both man and horse. The electricity first shattered an umbrella which Damon held in his hand and then struck him on the head, tearing out the crown of his hat. Thence it coursed from the shoulder across his chest and down the right leg, tearing his clothing, particularly the pantaloons, badly. The sock on the right foot was almost completely destroyed, and the shoe whipped off. In the case of the man and beast alike, death was instantaneous. Damon's body was conveyed to the morgue. His parents are old residents of the town of Wauwatosa, five miles west of this city, where he also resided. The deceased was a single man.

A CYCLONE.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 5.—An Indian territory special says a severe storm swept over the country in the vicinity of the Cheyenne agency, doing great damage. A tepee in which there was an aged Indian woman was struck by lightning and the occupant instantly killed. Many tepees were blown away and the inmates badly wounded.

MORRIS, Miss., July 6.—A hurricanne in the vicinity of Greenville, demolished a number of buildings. Several persons were injured, and the Johnson house, belonging to James Canary, was totally destroyed. A boy of 6 years was killed by falling timber. The rest of the family were badly injured.

LOTTA'S LATEST.

Report That the Little Expert Kicker Has Gone and Got Married Sure Enough.

WASHINGTON, July 4.—A very circumstantial story is told here to show that Charlotte Crabtree who was married here to O. Edwin Huss is Lotta, the actress, who was supposed to be in England. The story, it is said, was told by a well known Washington lady whom Mr. Hussl wanted to marry. Efforts were made to interview the lady on the subject, but she refused to talk, so it is impossible to verify the report. The story is that Lotta was deeply in love with Mr. Huss, but Mr. Huss loved the Washington lady referred to. The latter is to be married to a gentleman from Connecticut. According to the story, when Huss found his suit was hopeless, he remembered that Lotta doted on him, and immediately after she left the country, June 6, he telegraphed her to return and all would be forgiven, or words to that effect. She gave her mother the slip and returned incognito, reaching New York Saturday night and coming here Sunday night. The marriage is said to have been performed by Rev. T. D. Power, but no information can be obtained from him, as he and his wife went out of town.

Mr. Huss is an Englishman by birth, but a graduate of the naval academy. He left the navy and was in the dramatic business for a while. He is said to have saved Lotta's life once at Lake George, and that her fancy for him dates from that. He has recently had a fortune of $150,000 left him by English relatives. He is tall, fair and handsome, and well known here. People are incredulous about Lotta's ability to come here from England and get married without detection, but as Charlotte Crabtree is known in Washington.

EUROPEAN NEWS.

The List of Lost by the Glasgow Disaster Foots up 150--Pauper Emigrants--The Cholera--De Chambord --The Sunderland Horror.

LONDON, July 5.—It is now estimated that 150 persons were drowned by the sinking of the Daphne.

A diver reports that the bodies in the hold of the Daphne are so closely packed that he was unable to move them. Preparations are being made to raise the vessel. Fifty-two bodies have been recovered.

PAUPER EMIGRANTS.

William O'Brien, member from Mallow, will in the commons ask Trevelyan, chief secretary for Ireland, whether, in view of the recent action of the emigration commission at New York, the deportation of paupers from Ireland to the United States will be stopped. He will ask from what particular fund the money will be taken to defray the expense of bringing back these emigrants and returning them to the respective workhouses from which they had been sent.

THE CHOLERA.

LONDON, July 5.—There were 112 deaths at Damietta. There were three at Samanoud. The sanitary cordon around Damietta stretches in a circle fifteen miles in circumference. Two recent cases at Alexandria reported as cholera were really gastric fever. Sir William Gull, M. D., in a communication to Earl Granville, British foreign secretary, states that, in his opinion, cholera in Egypt will subside without spreading to Europe. During the twenty-four hours ending at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning there were 122 deaths at Damietta, 32 at Mansuiah, 4 at Samanoud, 4 at Shirbin and 3 at Port Said. Denmark has imposed a quarantine upon vessels arriving at Danish ports from Egypt.

DE CHAMBORD.

PARIS, July 4.—The latest news from Frohsdorff is to the effect that the Count De Chambord is growing weaker. A telegram received from Frohsdorff says the Count De Chambord's death is momentarily expected. The Count de Chambord has eaten hardly anything for three days. He is almost deaf, and can hardly speak.

M. de Cassagnac discusses in Pays the relative prospects of Prince Jerome Napoleon and Duke de Paris in the event of the death of Count de Chambord. He concludes that their prospects are about equal, but says there is reason to believe that Prince Jerome will shortly take steps to reassure the conservatives and Catholics.

THE SUNDERLAND HORROR.

SUNDERLAND, July 5.—At the inquest into the disaster by which 182 children lost their lives, several children testified that they saw a man bolt the door as they descended the stairs, but they varied in their description of the man.

The inquest over the Sunderland disaster resulted in the verdict that the children were suffocated because the door was partially closed, by whom the evidence was insufficient to show. The conjurer who gave the entertainment was censured on account of the small number of attendants to guard against disaster.

We believe that there is a large class of patent medicines whose ingredients are skillfully and conscientiously selected and compounded, and that they have been very useful in the domestic treatment of disease. The reputation of a patent medicine is sustained by

THURSDAY, JULY 5

ANTI-MONOPOLY.

The National Conference in Chicago.

Denis Kearney Rejected as a Delegate.

Twenty States and Territories Represented--Henry, of New York, Permanent Chairman.

CHICAGO, July 5.—The National Anti-Monopoly Conference met in McCormick's hall, in this city. Representatives of Anti-Monopoly organizations in the following states and territories were present: Colorado, Dakota, District of Columbia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, New Hampshire, New York, Ohio, Wisconsin, Michigan, Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas, Kentucky, Minnesota, Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia and Maine.

The New York State Anti-Monopoly League sent a delegation. California was represented by two contesting delegations. One delegation was made up of Denis Kearney and Stephen Maybell.

The conference was called to order at 11 o'clock by Edwin Leo Brown, of Chicago. His opening remarks were brief, pointed, and impressive. He said that the delegates were there to inaugurate a new declaration of independence. It is time we did so. Our forefathers revolted against taxation without representation. We are here to do the same. He read the call under which the conference assembled, and stated that no person who could not subscribe to the principles of the call had a right to take part in the proceedings of the conference. No one had a right to be there as a Democrat, a Republican or a Greenbacker. All should be there as Anti-Monopolists. This issue is greater than all others.

The following temporary officers were elected by acclamation: Allen Root, of Nebraska, chairman; C. C. Post, of Indiana, secretary; J. R. Buchanan, of Colorado, assistant secretary. Mr. Root, in taking the chair, said they would renew the old Declaration of Independence. He wanted the substance of freedom, not the shadow. He wanted to return to the faith of the fathers of the country.

Committees on credentials, resolutions, and organization were appointed. A motion was made to refer all resolutions to the committee on resolutions without reading or debate. This called forth a great deal of lively denunciation. Many members thought it was a gag rule. Several amendments and substitutes were proposed, but after considerable discussion, the motion was passed. At 12 o'clock a recess was taken till 2:30 to give the committee on credentials time to prepare their report.

At 2:50 the conference was called to order by the temporary chairman. The committee on credentials presented its report. There was a contest in one state only, California. The committee reported in favor of the admission of the five delegates from the regular Anti-Monopoly organization of California, leaving Kearney and Maybell out. Kearney asked why he was left out. Barr, of Chicago, eulogized Kearney as a representative of laboring men. Post, secretary of the organizing committee, took the stand and made a speech in favor of the regular delegation from California, saying that they represented the only Anti-Monopoly organization on the Pacific Coast, and reading letters from that organization representing that Kearney was in the employ of the Central and Southern Pacific railroads, and that he had appeared before the railroad commission of California to make an argument in favor of high rates and fares on the ground that it would raise the wages of workingmen. Post was interrupted repeatedly, and the wildest excitement prevailed. The friends of Kearney demanded that he should stop. At times the speaker was interrupted for two or three minutes at a time, but he held his ground. Replying to the assertion that Kearney represented the laboring men, he read from San Francisco Truth, the organ of workingmen on the Pacific coast, an article repudiating Kearney as a representative of working classes.

A delegate from Pennsylvania moved that Kearney be heard. Kearney took the stand and spoke bitterly, denouncing the regular Anti-Monopolists of California, and eulogizing his services. Questioned by a delegate he denied that he had received money from railroads, or rode on free passes. He spoke of "liars," "blackmailers," "thieves," &c.

Coffeen, of Illinois, from the committee on credentials, argued against the Kearney credentials on the ground of their informality.

Helen Wilmans, a lady who had lived in California, spoke with great intensity and earnestness, and warned the convention not to receive Kearney, on the ground that he stood there with the gold of the monopolists in his pockets.

Barnd, of Nebraska, said that the dissension was caused by an expenditure of railroad money to bring the movement into disgrace.

A vote was taken by states on the admission of Kearney and Maybell, and they were rejected by a vote of 118 to 74. The convention then quieted down and Kearney and Maybell left the hall.

The committee on permanent organization reported as follows: Chairman, J. F. Henry, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; secretary, C. C. Post, of Indiana; reading secretary, J. R. Buchanan, of Colorado; assistant secretary, A. W. St. John, of Missouri; vice-presidents: D. B. Hyde, New York, J. H. Stickle, Nebraska, W. W. Osborn, Michigan, E. N. Hill, District of Columbia, Henry Smith, Wisconsin, H. D. Rogers, California, Edwin Lee Brown, Illinois, L. S. Foster, Ohio, J. J. McFeeley, Kansas, R. F. Wingate, Missouri. The officers, as reported by the committee, were elected by acclamation. Mr. Henry was then escorted to the chair. He gave his record as an advocate of anti-monopoly, and his labor as a member of the New York Board of Trade and Transportation. He wanted to have an earnest, harmonious conference. The result of the meeting should be such that every working man in the country could point to it with pride. The conference then took a recess till 8 o'clock in the evening.

The night session was taken up entirely by speech-making. Addresses were made by Capt. Stickle, of Nebraska, Mr. Schively, of Indiana, Mrs. Dodd, of California, and Mr. Dean, of New York. The conference adjourned at 10:30 until 9 in the morning awaiting report of committee on resolutions.

The Bovine Champion.

BALTIMORE, Md., July 5.—A seven days' test of the Jersey cow, Value 2d, 6,844, owned by Watts & Seth, of this city, has been completed by a committee of the Maryland Improved Live Stock Breeders' association and Col. C. M. Weld, of New York, on the part of the American Jersey Cattle club. The cow was milked at intervals of eight hours, yielding 837 pounds of milk, from which was produced 25 pounds and 2 11-12 ounces of butter. The cow was bred in New Jersey, and was purchased last fall by her present owners for $2,000. She is pronounced the best butter producing cow in the United States.

NO FUN IN IT.

Gen. Joe Johnston, of Virginia, on the Bierne-Elam Duel--He Thinks It is Not a Subject for Ridicule, and is Glad of it.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. July 5.—Gen. Joseph E. Johnston, of Virginia, representative in congress of the Richmond district, has expressed his opinion to a press representative in regard to the famous Elam-Bierne duel. Gen. Johnston said: "I am glad, and I have no doubt the people of Virginia are glad, the outcome of this duel has been such as not to make it a subject for ridicule to the press of the country. One of the participants was wounded. The affair was not bloodless, as have been the half-dozen duels fought in Virginia in the last two or three years. Mr. Bourne is, I think, a native of Greenbrier county, in West Virginia, but has lived in Richmond, Va., ever since the war, having become proprietor of the State at the death of J. H. Chamberlayn. Elam is a native, I think, of North Carolina. Mahone owns The Whig and Elam edits it. The sympathies of the reputable classes are entirely with Mr. Bourne. You know the laws of Virginia are more severe against dueling than assassination. They are too severe to be enforced, unless public opinion is in support. Consequently, although by the statute any one participating in any way in a duel is disfranchised, you see the legislature passing bills re-enfranchising every now and then whole batches of men disfranchised in this way." When asked if a Virginia jury would acquit Bourne if Mr. Elam should die, Gen. Johnston said positively that he thought it would.

Notable Deaths.

DAVENPORT, Iowa, July 5.—Bishop John McMullen, of the Catholic diocese of Davenport, is dead, after an illness of more than a year's duration. His ailment was a cancerous affection of the stomach. He was consecrated in the Church of the Holy Name at Chicago, August 23, 1881, and arrived in Davenport a few days thereafter. In six months he had visited every parish in his diocese and confirmed over six thousand persons. His arduous labors together with exposure aggravated his disease and compelled him to desist. He visited California in the winter, but found no relief. He was greatly beloved by his people here and greatly respected by the entire Protestant community.

BALTIMORE, July 5.—A telegram from Cockeysville, Md., says that the Rt. Rev. Wm. Pinckney, D. D. LL. D., Episcopal bishop of Maryland, died suddenly there. The bishop had been enjoying excellent health and had recently been very active, traveling through the diocese in the discharge of his episcopal duties. At the recent session of the convention he presided, and was in full enjoyment of all his physical and mental faculties.

How to Foretell Weather.

The Farmers club of the American institute has issued the following rules for foretelling the weather. If farmers and others whose business is out doors and depends upon the weather will study them closely they will be able to guess the weather more accurately than Wiggins or Vennor:

1. When the temperature falls suddenly there is a storm forming south of you.
2. When the temperature rises suddenly there is a storm forming north of you.
3. The wind always blows from a region of fair weather toward a region where a storm is forming.
4. Cirrus clouds always move from a region where a storm is in progress to a region of fair weather.
5. Cumulus clouds always move from a region of fair weather to a region where a storm is forming.
6. Where cirrus clouds are moving rapidly from the north or northeast there will be rain inside of twenty-four hours, no matter how cold it is.
7. When cirrus clouds are moving rapidly from the south or southeast there will be a cold rainstorm on the morrow, if it be in summer, and if it be in winter there will be a snowstorm.
8. The wind always blows in a circle around a storm, and when it blows from the north the rain is heaviest east of you; if it blows from the south the heaviest rain is west of you; if it blows from the east the heaviest rain is south; if it blows from the west the heaviest rain is north of you.
9. The wind never blows unless rain or snow is falling within 1,000 miles of you.
10. Whenever heavy white frost occurs a storm is forming within 1,000 miles north or northwest of you.

INDEPENDENCE

How it was Observed in All Parts of the ...

CHICAGO, July 5.—The ... served in this city very g... whole population taking a ... was no set programme, ... himself as to the manner in ... celebrate the great anniversary. ... weather up to 9 p. m. ... clear and warm, but the heat was ... by a pure breeze. At 9 o'clock at night ... heavy rain began and continued for an hour. Many of the occupants of excursion ... and street cars, and the many ... abroad at the time were made uncomfortable by being thoroughly drenched, but the effects of the blow was to put the temperature down to a more comfortable point.

Early in the day the people turned out to celebrate and by 9 a. m. the parks and streets were scenes of gay festivity. During the day there were numerous excursions to different points by rail and water and they were all well patronized. At night the display of fireworks was liberal and general and every block in the city had its own exhibition.

As usual there were numerous accidents, some slight, some serious, and several, it is believed will prove fatal.

News from all parts in this state, Iowa, Wisconsin, Indiana, Michigan, Missouri, and, in fact, every state in the union, shows that the day was very generally celebrated by the people, the rule being for each citizen to select his own plan of enjoyment, there being very few public or "old-fashioned" observances.

WASHINGTON CITY.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Except two years ago, when the noisy observance of the day was prevented by the assassination of President Garfield, the Fourth has not for many years been observed so quietly. There have been no public celebrations, and the procession of a colored Sunday-school, a very few fireworks here and there, and the common firecracker, but on an unusually meager scale, have comprised the entire celebration, with the exception of an assembly of old citizens, who met in Corcoran's art-gallery and observed the day in old fashioned style by having the Declaration of Independence and Washington's farewell address read.

WOODSTOCK, CONN.

WOODSTOCK, Conn., July 5.—Henry C. Bowen's annual Fourth of July celebration met with even better success than usual. The festivities opened with the arrival from New York of a special drawing-room car containing ex-President and Mrs. Hayes, Senator Platt, Bishop Coxe, and other guests. They were received at the depot at Putnam by representative citizens of Woodstock and Putnam, and escorted out of Putnam on the way to Woodstock by citizens and a brass band. As the procession passed the Putnam Catholic church a little girl approached the Bowen family carriage, containing Mr. and Mrs. Hayes, and in a graceful address presented each with a bouquet of flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Hayes returned thanks in pleasant words. Almost the entire population was out to receive the distinguished guests and escort them to Bowen's summer home. In the evening a reception was held at the Bowen residence, which was attended by thousands of people from Woodstock and the surrounding towns. The speaker of the day was ex-President Hayes, and a poem by Whittier was read.

TOULON, ILL.

TOULON, Ill., July 5.—This, the shire town of Stark county, so often called Moll Stark in political campaigns, celebrated the national holiday in a manner never before equaled. For the past four weeks our citizens have been quietly planning and working under the direction of a committee of nine, and the result was far beyond the expectations of the most sanguine. The exercises were opened with the firing of cannon until the one in use exploded, fortunately without injuring any one. In the parade all the leading merchants and manufacturers were represented. The Declaration of Independence was read by one of Stark's fairest daughters, Miss Jennie E. Scott. The address of Hon. E. W. Palmer, postmaster of Chicago, was well received.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 5.—There was no formal celebration of the Fourth here further than an address before the Tippecanoe club by Maj. J. W. Gordon. All business nearly was suspended, and the people generally resorted to the theatres and the woods. The state officers and a delegation of prominent gentlemen, including Gov. Porter, Senator Harrison, ex-Gov. Baker and others, went to Wheatland, Knox county, to assist in the ceremonies of unveiling the monument to the late Gov. Williams. Aside from an unusual number of drunks there were no crimes reported to the police, and, strangely enough, there were no serious accidents resulting from the use of fireworks.

MILWAUKEE.

MILWAUKEE, July 5.—The national anniversary passed off with more than ordinary quietness. A shower during the forenoon served to demoralize the military parade—a slim one at best—and drove the crowds that had assembled along the line of march indoors for shelter. During the afternoon the streets were comparatively deserted, and but for the detonation of explosives one might have taken the day for a Sabbath rather than a national holiday. After the rain most intense heat was experienced, keeping people at home to a considerable extent. Still the parks and beer gardens drew crowds, particularly the New National park, where the military held forth and conducted a thriving business on shares.

CINCINNATI, July 5.—The day was very warm and the general cessation from business was a welcome relaxation. No general plan of celebrating the national birthday had been adopted, but each of the great hill-top resorts invited the sweltering multitude by variously arranged programmes of balloon ascensions, daylight fireworks, and like attractions. The local military paraded in the morning, and gave a sham battle at Ross lake in the afternoon. There were numberless picnics at outside points, mostly well patronized by city people. The mayor had issued very stringent orders against the firing of pistols and the discharge of fire-crackers within the city limits, but it was utterly ignored by everybody. There have been half a dozen small fires directly chargeable to this practice. While the number of accidents from pistols and fireworks have been more than usual, not one very serious casualty had been reported.

Chalmers, of Mississippi.

JACKSON, Miss., July 5.—General Chalmers' Independent state convention was held here, with Reuben Davis, a Confederate brigadier and congressman, in the chair. The first plank in the platform is for a free ballot and a fair count, and the fourth demands legislative supervision of railroads. About thirty-five counties were represented.

Death of Archbishop Purcell.

CINCINNATI, July 5.—The following telegram has been received:

"ST. MARTIN'S CONVENT.—To Chamberlain, Cincinnati: Archbishop Purcell died at 11:45 p. m. J. F. CALLAGHAN."

Rufus Marsh, a veteran police captain was killed by sunstroke in Boston.

WHO SHOULD USE BENTON'S HAIR GROWER!

All who are BALD, all who are becoming BALD, all who do not want to be BALD, all who are troubled with DANDRUFF, all who want MUSTACHES or WHISKERS. 80 per cent. of those using BENTON'S HAIR GROWER, have grown Hair. It fails sometimes when the follicles have been killed by poisonous preparations, or skin diseases, but those cases are so few that everyone should try it. If it fails to stop the hair falling it is from a parasite or Alopecia; in such cases send us a few hairs and we will send a prescription free.

Double and Triple STRENGTH.

When the Skin is very tough and hard, and the follicle apparently effectually closed, the single strength will sometimes fail to reach the papilla; in such case the double or the triple strength should be used in connection with the single strength, using them on alternate days.

NO HAIR! NO PAY!

We will send, charges prepaid, to any address, on receipt of five dollars, four bottles of single strength and one bottle of double strength. If used according to directions, and the person is not over fifty years of age, we bind ourselves to refund the money if no new growth of hair is produced when the five bottles have been used on one person.

No contracts taken unless actual baldness exists.

Ask your Druggist or Barber to get it for you, or the money can be sent to us direct and the Grower will be sent prepaid. ☞Price, $1.00 per Bottle. Double Strength, $2.00; Triple Strength, $3.00.

Emerald Grove.

—Rev. W. J. Olmstead was absent several days last week and over Sunday, on a trip north to Oconomowoc. In consequence there was no preaching at the M. E. church last Sabbath.

—The commencement at Beloit and Milton attracted a number of our people.

—Rev. A. W. Curtis, eldest son of Mrs. O. F. Curtis and brother-in-law of Loren Cheney, is visiting friends here and is expected to preach in the Congregational church next Sabbath. His present field of labor is Marion, Alabama, as a missionary of the American Missionary association.

—Mrs. Earl, aunt of Mrs. John Wetmore is visiting with her niece.

—At the communion services of the Congregational church held on Sabbath last, six persons were received into the church on profession of faith. A collection amounting to about $17 was taken up for the American board of foreign missions.

—Loren Cheney was elected superintendent of the Sabbath school for the ensuing year.

If any one was out Monday morning about 4 o'clock they might have seen our enterprising merchant Hastings and his right hand man, Will Jones busy loading a quantity of butter and eggs to be shipped to the copper region of Michigan.

—E. Heller has sold his mammoth horse "Sam" and has made a purchase of a fine buff silver mane mare "Laura." Price private.

☞—Mrs. Chas. Stoller is improving fast.

☞—Who dare say we did not celebrate the 4th.

—Dr. Seeber brought us a hen's egg which takes the bunn. It is marked quite plainly 1001. The doctor takes this simply as a notice served to quit by this progressive hen.

—Mr. David Jones returned from a two weeks visit in Racine last Saturday.

—Friday evening of last week the young people of the towns of Bradford, Clinton and Janesville dedicated the large barn of Levi Inman's in the shape of a grand dancing party, and all went merry as a marriage bell.

—Warm weather is here in good old fashioned style—96 in the shade last Friday, 92 to-day, Monday.

—The report of the cannon Saturday afternoon was not the commencement of the Fourth, but it was in honor of our worthy mail carrier, Uncle John Ormsby, who at that time completed his contract with the United States mail service. This makes nine years that Uncle John has carried mail through from Darien to Janesville, cold or warm, wet or dry, through mud and snow drifts he has made his way regularly and on time, with a smile and pleasant word for all. He will carry the mail this week as usual for the contractor, and a new man will commence next Monday.

—Get your machine oil of Hastings.

—Mr. J. Phillips has completed a new front fence and has trimmed up the shrubbery in his yard, which adds much to the appearance of his premises, as well as the street in front.

Prof. Horsford's Baking Powder.

UNIVERSALLY APPRECIATED.

PROF. SAMUEL H. DICKSON, of Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, says: "Prof. Horsford's preparations for making bread, biscuits and cakes, are becoming universally known and appreciated.

Shopiere.

—Rev. E. P. Salmon, of Beloit, preached in the Congregational church last Sabbath, one of those sermons which it pays to hear.

—The board of supervisors met last Saturday and appointed Thos. Holmes, town clerk in place of J. W. Thomas, who has resigned on account of removal.

—The floral concert given at the Congregational church Sunday evening, may well be pronounced a success. There was a large audience who seemed to appreciate the exercises especially a song sung by Winnie and Louisa Culver, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Culver, and also a song sung by Miss Myrtle Sweet.

—J. W. Thomas is improving and we hope will soon be able to be out again. Mr. Thomas has sold his interest in the firm of Thomas & Coffin to his partner.

—Rev. Hiram Houstan, of Maine, has been engaged to supply the pulpit of the Congregational church until September 1st. He will begin his labors next Sabbath.

—The hay crop which is being gathered now was never better than it is this year.

—Some claim the corn grows 2 inches every day, but we think we are satisfied to have ours grow 1 inch in a day.

—Mrs. Dr. Farr and Mrs. Dr. Bell, of Beloit, were calling on their friends in our village, last Friday.

—At the annual school meeting held Monday evening, Mr. B. H. Smith was re-elected director of the school board. Mr. Smith is already a veteran in the service, having served nine years in that capacity. He has always been interested to maintain a good school in our village, and the patrons may be assured that will be his aim in the future.

Milton.

—Among those in attendance on commencement, were: Rev. J. L. Huffman, of Jackson Centre, Ohio; C. J. Rollis, editor of the Oregon Observer; P. H. Swift, of the Oconto Reporter; O. P. Hull, of Livermore, Ia; Superintendent F. O. Burdick, of Utica; Hon. J. Davis and wife, of Rockford; Dr. H. L. Coon and wife, of Northfield, Minn.; Rev. A. W. Coon and daughter, of Preston, New York; Hon. M. T. Park, assistant secretary of state; Major S. S. Rockwood, of Janesville; H. W. Randolph, wife, son and daughter, of Walworth; Mrs. Clarke, of Farma; Miss Haven, of Milwaukee; O. P. B. Wright, M. D., of Emerald Grove; Superintendent W. R. Taylor, of LaGrange; Prof. A. Salisbury, of Atlanta, Georgia; Prof. J. D. Bond and wife, of St. Paul; Miss Ada B. McCraken, of Powankee; Prof. H. C. Curtis and wife, of Juneau; Misses. Covey, Ordway and Richmond, of Chicago. Miss Hosford, of Whitewater; Frank Clarke, of Chicago; Prof. J. N. Humphrey, of Whitewater; O. E. Larkin, M. D., of Chicago; J. Mills, M. D., of Elgin; M. J. Whitford, M. D., of Walworth, and many others whose names have escaped our memory.

—In our item last week on the ball game there are one or two errors. It seems that Mr. Bond was not a member of the University club, consequently Mr. Hullinger did not play with him as stated. We did not intend to convey the idea that the umpire, Mr. Hullinger, intentionally favored the Edgerton club in his decisions, but meant to be understood that if anything was to be said as to favoritism the errors in judgment were to the advantage of Edgerton, rather than Milton.

—H. McGowan, of Clear Lake, Iowa, was in town to see his brother graduate in the class of '83.

—We acknowledge a pleasant call from Dr. Catlin, of Geneva.

—J. A. Spaulding has bought the D. C. Burdick residence. Consideration $2,800. It is one of the finest places in town.

—Crops were never more promising than at the present time.

—The Arthur D. Hamilton Post, G. A. R. attended divine service at the M. E. church Sunday morning to listen to a Fourth of July sermon from Rev. B. T. White, by whose invitation they were present.

—If you want goods that are worth the money buy them of W. W. Clarke.

—The funeral of Mrs. N. G. Storrs, of Milwaukee, who died at Waukesha on Friday, took place on Sunday at the Congregational church. The services were conducted by Rev. F. W. Hullinger, pastor, assisted by President Whitford, and the remains were interred in the village cemetery. A special train came out from Milwaukee to bring relatives and friends of the deceased and returned immediately after the funeral. Mrs. Storrs and her husband were among the earliest settlers of this county, coming to Milton in 1837, at which time Mrs. Storrs was the only white woman within a radius of ten miles.

A Woman's Experience.

MRS. WILLIAM DOWNES, of Uxbridge, Mass., writes on March 15, 1883, as follows:

"During the past three years I have been a great sufferer from a complication of diseases which baffled the skill of the most experienced doctors, as I could not obtain permanent relief by their treatment and prescriptions; and I have also tried many so-called cures in the medicine line, but could get no relief. The pains, aches, and weakness increased so rapidly and constantly that I was so reduced in strength as to be unable to leave the bed, and the doctors informed me that there was no hope of a recovery. In this exhausted and discouraged condition a dear friend persuaded me to use Hunt's Remedy, and after taking it only three days I commenced to get better, and to my great joy and delight I have continued to improve constantly by its use, until now, after having taken the remedy only a few weeks, I am able to be about my house again, and am now doing my house work. My lame back is cured, the severe pains have disappeared, and I am now in better health than for many years, and beg this privilege of gladly recommending Hunt's Remedy to all who are afflicted with any disease of the kidneys or liver; and I also highly recommend it for the attacks of sick headache. My husband also has experienced a very great benefit to his health by the use of this most valuable medicine, Hunt's Remedy."

"Our Flag Is Still There."

MR. S. B. LONGFELLOW, Augusta, Me., east side river, writes us under date of April 15, 1883:

"To whom it may concern: This may certify that two years ago I was very badly afflicted with kidney and urinary difficulties, which extended through the system and laid me up for weeks, so that I could do no work. I had the most skillful physician in town, who gave me no assistance. Hearing of Hunt's Remedy, I got a bottle, and half of it cured me entirely, so that I have been well ever since. The other half I gave to a neighbor who was afflicted much as I was, and it restored him to health. I can truly say Hunt's Remedy has been of great and inexpressive worth to me."

"We never have had a bottle returned," proudly assert the proprietors of Brown's Teething Cordial.

Fairfield.

—The contract for carrying the daily mail has been let we understand to Mr. Wells, of Johnstown, who will make his first trip next Monday, Mr. Ormsby will carry it until then.

—The song of the mower is heard in the land these days.

—There was no society meeting last Saturday eve for the reason that a good many of the members wished to attend another entertainment that night, and the president thought best to adjourn it for one week or until July 7th.

—Mr. Cope Cutter returned from Richland Center last week, with one hundred and twenty-five head of young cattle.

—Mr. Clark has been painting his house, and the operation improves its appearance very much.

—The cemetery association did some long-needed work in the yard last week.

—Miss Ella Cutter returned home from Durand last week.

—Quite a number in this vicinity attended the commencement exercises of Milton college. All report a very enjoyable day.

—Mrs. Charles Monroe is very sick. The doctors pronounce her sickness consumption, and her condition as critical.

Instead of feeling tired and worn out, instead of aches and pains, wouldn't you rather feel fresh and strong? If you continue feeling miserable and good for-nothing you have only yourself to blame, for Brown's Iron Bitters will surely cure you. Iron and cinchona are its principal ingredients. It is a certain cure for dyspepsia, indigestion, malaria, weakness, kidney lung and heart affections. Try it if you desire to be healthy, robust and strong and experience its remarkable curative qualities.

Mrs. J. F. Paddock, EAST DELAVAN, WIS., says: "I have used Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia and think it a good medicine."

P. L. Boyden, druggist, at HUDSON, WIS., says: "Brown's Iron Bitters has given universal satisfaction to all my customers."

Threw Away $350.

"Troubled with asthma for eight years. Not quite two bottles of Thomas' Electric Oil cured me completely, after spending over $350 without the slightest benefit." This is what August Trubner, of Tyrone, Pa., says.

MISCELLANEOUS.

DR. FISHBLATT

OF THE

Medical and Surgical

INSTITUTE

Late Lecturer and Professor in one of the leading medical colleges in the United States; editor of the New York Medical and Surgical Journal; consulting physician and operative surgeon in the New York Hospital for Chronic Diseases. Physician in Chief of the Medical and Surgical Institute of Cedar Rapids.

ON ACCOUNT OF HIS

Immense Practice

IN

Janesville, Wis.,

WILL MAKE HIS NEXT VISIT AT THE

MYERS HOUSE,

Wednesday, August 29th.

And Remain Two Days

☞ When he can be consulted on

Deformities, Spinal and Chronic Diseases.

Dr. Fishblatt

Has discovered the greatest cure in the world for weakness of the back and limbs, involuntary discharges, impotency, general debility, nervousness, languor, confusion of ideas, paleness of sight or giddiness, diseases of the throat, nose or skin, affections of the liver, lungs stomach, or bowels,—those terrible disorders arising from solitary practice more fatal to their victims than the songs of the sirens to the Mariners of Ulysses, blighting their most radiant hopes or anticipations, rendering marriage impossible.

YOUNG MEN.

Who have become victims of solitary vice, that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of exalted talent and brilliant intellect, who might, if otherwise, entrance listening senates with the thunder of their eloquence, or wake to ecstacy the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

Marriage.

Married persons, or young men contemplating marriage, aware of physical weakness (loss of procreative power, impotency,) nervous debility or any other disqualifications speedily relieved. He who places himself under the care of Dr. Fishblatt may religiously confide in his honor as a gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a physician.

Organic WEAKNESS.

Immediately cured and full vigor restored. This affliction—which renders life a burden and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by the victim of improper indulgence. Young persons are apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands this subject will deny that procreation is lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent? Besides being deprived of the pleasures of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms of both mind and body arise. The system becomes deranged, the physical and mental functions weakened, loss of procreative power, nervous irritability, dyspepsia, palpitation of the heart, indigestion, constitutional debility, wasting of the frame, cough, consumption and death.

A Cure Warranted.

Persons ruined in health by unlearned pretenders who keep them trifling month after month, taking poisonous and injurious compounds, should apply immediately.

Dr. Fishblatt

Graduated at one of the most eminent Colleges of the United States, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known; many troubled with ringing in the head and ear when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at certain sounds, with frequent blushing attended somewhat with derangement of the mind, were cured immediately.

Particular Notice.

Dr. F. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and solitary habits, which ruins both mind and body, unfitting them for business, study, society, marriage. These are some of the sad, melancholy effects produced by the early habits of youth, namely: Weakness in the back and limbs, pain in the head, dimness of sight, loss of musical power, palpitation of the heart, dyspepsia, nervous irritability, derangement of the digestive functions, debility consumption, etc.

INDEPENDENCE DAY!

The Celebration of the 107th Anniversary of American Liberty.

How the Day was Observed in Janesville.

The Patriotic Oration of Hon. John Winans.

The Races, Games, and Fire Works.

An Immense Crowd of People in the City.

The one hundred and seventh anniversary of the declaration of American independence has come and gone. In Janesville the day was observed in an appropriate manner. At an early hour in the morning people from the surrounding country commenced to congregate in the city, and each train brought the people in by car loads. Long before the hour appointed for the procession to form the streets were packed with people. Many of the business places, as well as private residences were tastefully decorated with patriotic emblems, and there was a general display of bunting in all parts of the city. Notwithstanding the immense crowd of people in the city, all remained orderly throughout the day and evening, only seven arrests were made during the day and evening for disorderly conduct. The rain during Tuesday night cooled the atmosphere, and caused the dust to disappear, making it comfortable for all—the city being free from dust during the entire day—at seven o'clock in the morning the thermometer registered 74 degrees above zero with a few clouds and a brisk southwest wind, and at one o'clock the register was 86 degrees above, with a fresh northwest wind,—while the temperature was not excessive, many people in the great throng on the streets were more or less affected.

The procession, which was as fine a one as ever formed in this city, was made up as follows:

Marshal Hogan and a Squad of Police.
FIRST DIVISION.
Chief Marshal—Dr. J. B. Whiting.
Catholic Cornet Band—John Thoroughgood, Leader.
Col. W. B. Britton and mounted staff, First Reg't W. N. G.
Bower City Rifles—Captain J. B. LaGrange—25 men.
Janesville Guards, Captain C. F. Glass—24 men.
SECOND DIVISION.
Charles Atwood, Marshal.
Drum Corps.
W. H. Sargent Post, No. 20, G. A. R.—30 men.
Grand Army Tableaux Car—Ship of State, containing 38 little girls, representing the 38 states of the union.
St. Patrick's T. A. & B. Society—30 men.
THIRD DIVISION.
A. M. Valentine, Marshal.
Bower City Band—Walter Helms, leader.
Chief Engineer Croft and Assistants Foster and Mahon.
Water Witch Engine Company No. 2—George Benway foreman—12 men with engine and hose cart.
Rescue Hook and Ladder Company No. 1, Henry Blunk foreman—15 men, with truck.
Washington Engine Company No. 1, A. W. Bauman foreman—12 men, with engine and hose cart.
Officers of the Day, Orator, Reader, Chaplains, and Distinguished Guests in Carriages.
FOURTH DIVISION.
Rex Magnus with his Calathumpian Clans.
Trade Tableaux in Decorated Wagons.
Citizens in Carriages.

The procession formed as published in Tuesday's Gazette, but was somewhat delayed, owing to the difficulty in getting some of the tableaux cars in readiness at so early an hour. The line of march was up Jackson street to Center, up Center to High, up High to Milwaukee, down Milwaukee to Main, down Main to the grand stand in the court house park.

During the march of this fine column the streets and sidewalks were a perfect mass of humanity and all were unanimous in pronouncing it one of the finest ever seen in Janesville. Usually the fire department have taken the first prize in the way of gorgeous decorations on fourth of July celebrations, but this time they were only excelled by the Grand Army boys, whose tableau car—the ship of state—was the finest ever seen in the city in the way of patriotic decorations. This car was drawn by six horses, and the representation was perfect in all details—the thirty-eight little girls—daughters of soldiers—made a grand alegorical scene, and received patriotic applause as they passed different points. The fire department also made a good appearance and showed good taste in trimming.

Messrs. Stearns & Baker, druggists, also had an attractive car, with a representation of a large mortar, surrounded with living characters—which drew great attention, as did also the car of the New York savings store, representing Britannia making a peace offering to the nations of the world.

Bart Baldwin's Calathumpian brigade was appreciated by all.

On arriving at the grand stand, the following exercises were had. The vast crowd being called to order by Mayor J. W. St. John, president of the day, the Bower City Band opened the exercises with music.

Prayer by Rev. Father Brennan.

Mayor St. John then introduced the talented lady reader, Mrs. J. B. Day, who read the immortal declaration of independence, in a clear voice, and with appropriate emphasis, which drew forth great applause.

Hon. John Winans was then introduced as the orator, and spoke as follows:

Mr. President and Fellow Citizens:

One hundred and seven years ago today, American independence was declared. A few months since, when in Philadelphia, I visited Independence Hall, and there saw the bell that, over a century ago, proclaimed in startling but joyous tones to the people of the colonies, the declaration, "that the united colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent states;" that proclaimed they were absolved from all allegiance to the British crown; that proclaimed that the brave men who had so declared, had in support of the declaration, pledged to each other "their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor."

I there also saw the seats, the great and wise and patriotic men who concrued and adopted the immortal declaration, had occupied in their deliberations.

I also saw there the original draft, as penned by Jefferson, of the declaration read in your presence and hearing to-day. The place and the memories associated therewith filled my soul with emotions and love of country, such as I had never experienced before, and which will last so long as memory holds its seat, and reason its sway.

There, within that sacred hall, the voices of Franklin, of Jefferson, of Hancock, of the Adamses, of Penn, of Lee, of Rutlege, of Gerry and others whose names you will recall, had been raised in behalf of the inalienable rights of man, and in favor of American independence and freedom.

There also had the voices of those same men been heard in supplication and prayer to the Divine Ruler of the universe, for wisdom and guidance and aid. There had stood the Father of his Country, declared to be, by the congress that had commissioned him commander-in-chief of its armies, "First in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

The independence thus declared was no idle declaration. It was one freighted with untold blessings to the human race; it was one sanctioned by the Lord God of hosts, whose aid those great men humbly and reverently invoked.

Surely, it is a duty we owe to the memory of our fathers, as well as a duty we owe our children, on each recurring anniversary of our nation's birthday, to commemorate the day, and the event; to suspend our daily avocations and consider how rich the heritage bequeathed to us; reflect upon the events that led to it, and do honor to the lives and deeds of those who bestowed it upon us.

We, of to-day, have enjoyed its blessings, and know its inestimable value. Not so with our children. They must be taught, as we have been taught, to understand and appreciate its cost and its benefits; must be taught, that patriotism, and love of country, and valor in its defence, is a duty everyone owes to the government, and well discharged, is worthy of all honor and praise; that with them will soon rest, the responsibility for its maintenance. Many of us—too many, I fear, do not fully appreciate our form of government; and are unmindful that the life, liberty, and happiness we are enjoying, and which are guaranteed to the humblest citizens by the constitution made by our fathers, were only obtained by years of strife, and war, beginning at Concord and Lexington, and ending by the surrender of the British forces at Yorktown.; are forgetful that the guarantees of the constitution were written and sealed with the blood of our fathers; are forgetful—that our heritage is richer, far richer than that of any other nation on earth. You—within the sound of my voice who have been the subjects of other governments—who have felt their burdens, and suffered from their oppressions, appreciate in a great degree the great boon to mankind, conferred by American independence, than we who have known no other can.

It must be borne in mind that the wrongs inflicted upon people by the government, of the old world, peopled the new. That tyranny and oppression drove them from home and kindred, to find an asylum in the wilderness of America, and that by them, the tree of liberty and equality was planted, and by them nourished, and watered with their tears and blood, until it grew to the majestic proportions we behold to-day:

"For here the exile met from every clime,
"And spoke in friendship every distant tongue;
"Men, from the blood of warring Europe sprung,
"Were here divided by the running brook."

It is to be borne in mind, our fathers first established as a principle in government that all men are created equal, and are endowed by the Creator with certain inalienable rights, as life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

It was and is that principle that constituted and constitutes the foundation of the whole structure. It was a radical departure from the forms of government as they elsewhere existed.

Under it, the people became the rulers, and those in office their servants.

That we have such a government is largely, if not wholly attributable to the wrongs attempted to be imposed upon the colonies by the mother country, wrongs, which the statesmanship and wisdom of our fathers turned to their, and our advantage. We ought to be thankful there was a George the third, king of England. It was from his adherence to wrong, that American independence came.

It is an old and wise saying—"Whom the God's would distroy they first make mad." So out of the blind obstinacy and madness of George the third, was reared the people's government.

A wiser king would have made the concessions demanded and we, we perhaps would still have been sujects of the British government, having among us privileged classes, and titled nobility.

Thanks to our heavenly Father that such is not our condition, that we are clothed in the robes, and are in possession of the rights, of freemen. It is no idle boast that ours is the land of the free and the asylum for the poor and the oppressed of the other nations of the earth.

Have we not abundant cause for celebrating this day? If any one doubts let him go to the history of other governments and be convinced. If still in doubt, let him turn to those about him who have tasted their bitter fruits, and ask their opinion. We know one star differeth from another star in glory. So one nation differeth from another nation in its government and laws. Ours is the bright particular star; so say the millions who have come and are still coming to our shores to enjoy the blessings of the poor man's government. Like the star in the heavens that directed the wise men of the East to the manger in which Jesus, the Savior of mankind was cradled, so the star in Western world is directing the needy and the oppressed to the land where liberty and freedom had their birth and have their home.

The great and wise and self-sacrificing men who gave us independence, who gave us our country, our constitution and our laws, were the Johns preaching in the American wilderness. It was they who prepared the way and who established liberty and equality for all men on a firm and enduring basis. It was they who baptised it in fire and blood. It was they who brought forth fruit meet for poor, suffering, struggling humanity. It was they who laid the axe to the root of the tree and cut down all inimical to liberty, and cast it out forever. It was they who purged our government of the fallcy, and people of the belief that kings ruled by divine right. It was they who established the great principle that governments can derive their rightful powers only from the consent of the governed, and that the beginning and the end of all governments is the voice of the people. And the Lord God of hosts, said, be it so, and the heavens opened and the spirit of God descended like a dove, and a voice from heaven said "this is my beloved people, in whom and with whom I am well pleased;" and this nation stood forth and took its place among the nations of the earth, and has grown and prospered and become great and mighty, and is still in its infancy.

The birth of this nation was an event in the history of the world, second only in importance to the birth and teachings of Christ. He came to comfort and to save. It was established to protect the weak, to disarm the strong, and make all politically equal. Each was and is to poor, weak, suffering humanity its only hope, its only refuge. The one in this life, the other in the life to come.

The men who conceived and achieved our independence, who gave us country, constitution, laws, should and will forever live in the memories and hearts of all true Americans, as they will forever live in history, as long as history defies the tooth of time, and long, long after the monuments in stone, iron and brass, erected to their memories by an admiring and grateful people have crumbled to dust.

May the glorious flag, now floating in the broad sun-light of heaven from housetop and flagstaff throughout the broad expanse of our country, forever wave in peace over a united people as well as a union of States. It is emblematic of the rights of man. It is emblematic of liberty regulated by law. It is the emblem of the best earthly government, a government by the people and for the people.

Selfish and wicked ambition may again seek to destroy what our fathers reared, but the same patriotism and love for our Union and government that then nerved a million or more of strong arms and brave and willing hearts to save it from distruction—and saved it—will again nerve the arms and thrill the hearts of our children and they will again save it—and their children will again save it—and I trust forever.

As time passes away the noble, grand men who left homes, wives, and children and battled to save it from the destroyers' hand—and did save it from distruction—will live, as our fathers live, inshrined in the hearts and memories of a grateful people.

"How sleep the brave who sink to rest
"With all their country's wishes blest!"
When Spring, with dewy fingers, cold,
Returns to deck their hallowed mold,
She there shall dress a sweeter sod
Than Fancy's feet has ever trod.
There honor comes, a pilgrim gray,
To bless the turf that wraps their clay
And Freedom shall a while repair,
To dwell a weeping hermit there."

The oration was received with much applause. After the benediction by Rev. Dr. Hodge, and music by the Catholic cornet band, the exercises in the park were concluded, and the crowd commenced to scatter, some going to Wheeler's grove to attend the picnic, while others wandered about the city to see the sights.

FUN IN THE AFTERNOON.

There was fun in the afternoon for all. Main street, in front of the park, was the scene of several amusing races, which were witnessed by several thousand persons. The sack race was won by Willie Van Kirk, John Teel second, and Roly Cheney third. The stone and basket race was won by John Teel, John Behrndt second, and James Sullivan third.

In the mule race there were half a dozen entries, and Messrs. Murray and Galbraith had about all they could do to start the mules,—the riders were each anxious to go at the drop of the hat, but not so with the mules, and the crowd was greatly amused for some time—finally Thomas Rooney's mule took the cup, Thomas Hogan second and Thomas Drummond third.

The wheelbarrow race was won by Willie Ingles, John McIntyre second and Fred Rasey third.

The game of quoits, which took place on the hill in the third ward, under the management of Mr. A. O. Wilson, drew quite a crowd of spectators, the prizes being awarded to Frank Bell and Mr. Robinson.

Owing to Milwaukee street bridge showing unmistakable signs of weakness, the tub race, which was announced to take place in the river, was stopped by the officers, before it had fairly got under way.

At Wheeler's grove an immense crowd was entertained with dancing and refreshments, the Bower City and Anderson's band furnishing the music.

At three o'clock the fire department turned out and entertained the visitors by giving an exhibition of throwing water on River street. The engines did some good playing, and when the hose of both engines were siamesed into one line, they threw as handsome a stream of water as we ever saw.

In the evening there was a splendid display of fire works in the court house park and the corn exchange square. This part of the entertainment was somewhat interfered with by the rain, which commenced about half-past nine o'clock. A large number of the most beautiful pieces of fire-works were not exhibited, owing to the rain storm.

Thus ended the celebration of the one hundred and seventh anniversary of American independence, in Janesville

War Relics.

The show window of Messrs. Croft & Whiton, druggists, on West Milwaukee streets, attracted general attention yesterday, by all who were curious to see the "war relics." The display is really a fine one, and will interest even an old soldier, especially if he has time to listen to Mr. Croft's interesting lecture on each relic. Among the collection are the following:

A sword of an officer belonging to General Burgoine's staff, surrendered at Saratoga.

An officer's epaulet of the war of 1812.

Flint lock musket and bayonet of three wars—the French and Indian, the Revolution, and the war of 1812.

The skull of Standing Bull, the Sioux chief, his lariat, tommahawk, and tobacco pouch.

A rebel newspaper, dated Vicksburg, July 4th, 1863, the day of the surrender. The paper is printed on Wall paper.

A large collection of grape, canister, bullets, other missiles, taken from the wounds of union soldiers by Surgeon Henry Palmer, while in the army.

A ten pound shell from the battle field of Alatoona Pass, picked up eighteen years after the battle.

An elegant revolver and rose wood case, presented to Mr. Croft by his Janesville friends in August, 1862, and carried by him during the war.

Muster and pay roll of Rubin Cleary's Co. H. 7th Regt. Virginia volunteers. (rebel.)

A revolver owned by Major General Harry Gilmore, C. S. A.

A piece of the battle flag of the 24th Wisconsin regiment.

A badge of the 15th army corps—Logan's—"40 wounds."

A revolver belonging to the Indian Chief Victoria.

Specimens of passes used during the war.

A picture representing the 7th Division, 17th army corps, at the seige of Vicksburg.

A pair of foils one hundred years old.

A powder horn marked "J. B. L." 1812.

There are also many other articles in the collection, which together, make a great display of relics.

Briefiets.

—The day after we celebrate.

—There were at least ten thousand visitors in the city yesterday.

—The police force only made seven arrests yesterday and last evening.

—All the railways did a good business yesterday, carrying passengers at reduced fare.

—A dog fight on West Milwaukee street caused quite a crowd to gather this forenoon.

—Judge Wentworth, of Racine, will be here next Monday to hold court for Judge Bennett. Attorneys will please take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

—St. Patrick's church and society acknowledge their obligations to the members of the Grand Army of the Republic, for the mark of respect shown them at the picnic grounds on the afternoon of the Fourth.

—Mr. John McCulloch, of the Gazette office, received the sad news yesterday, by telegram, that his nephew, Willis Damon, of Wauwatosa, had been killed by lightning, at eleven o'clock yesterday forenoon. No particulars have yet been received.

—There were several very narrow escapes from serious accidents yesterday, by frightened horses in the streets. An aged lady was thrown from a buggy on corn exchange square; and several collisions occurred during the jam on the streets, but no one was injured thereby.

—The dancing party in the Rifles' armory last evening, for the benefit of the Sisters of St. Joseph's convent, was one of the largest ever given in the city. Everything passed off pleasantly, and a handsome sum of money must have been realized. Anderson's band furnished the music.

—There was a large audience at the opera house last night to witness the performance given by the Vokes new combination. Some parts of the piece were very good while others were exceedingly moderate. The dancing by Mr. Fred Vokes was remarkably fine; "Faust" was a very happy and entertaining piece of musical comedy. The other parts of the entertainment contained very little merit. It is an ill-conceived piece of comedy and does not do justice to the company

—On Tuesday evening Mr. C. S. Jackman received a telegram via. San Francisco, stating that his brother, Fred Jackman, died on the 17th of June, and was buried at sea. Mr. Jackman was the owner of the schooner "Lotos," and was taking a cargo of powder from San Francisco to Panama, when his death occurred. How far he was off Panama at the time is not known, and no further particulars than these already given have been received.

—The members and friends of Court Street church decided not to keep a restaurant on the Fourth, which was a very wise decision on account of the annoyance and hard work it would impose upon all those who would take an active interest in the enterprise, and more especially upon the ladies upon whom a far greater part of the burden would have fallen. The church suffered no loss by the wise course which was taken. Some of the enthusiastic and practical friends of the society went to work yesterday and raised $100, which was presented to the Ladies' aid society. This was a handsome gift for which the givers have the sincerest thanks of the ladies of that society

The Industrial Exhibit.

The industrial exhibit by the pupils of the public schools, which is now in progress at the Central school building, drew a large crowd of spectators yesterday and to-day, everyone expressing themselves well pleased at the splendid display of articles on exhibition. The exhibition will close to-morrow afternoon at five o'clock; and we are again requested to urge that all friends and patrons of the public school should call and inspect the articles, as it is indeed worth the time required. The children who have articles on exhibition are requested to call for the same Saturday morning, after nine o'clock.

Burglary.

Last evening while Mr. A. G. Anderson, who resides on School street, in the fourth ward, was witnessing the display of fire works, with his family, burglars broke open his front door, and after ransacking the house, succeeded in finding a revolver, a gold ring, valued at eleven dollars, a pair of bracelets, and a few other articles of jewelry. The front door was pushed in—breaking the fastenings—no clue to the burglars.

Special Notice.

All persons having bills against the Fourth of July committee, will please hand in the same before Saturday, July 7, 1883. A meeting of that committee will be held at the Gazette counting room on Saturday evening, at 8 o'clock.

W. T. VANEIRK, Chairman.

FOR SALE CHEAP—Two fine prairie farms two miles from Janesville city, one contains 120 and one 240 acres. If you want a splendid farm near the city don't let this opportunity pass.

Satisfaction Universal.

"In the past three months I have sold one hundred and six bottles of Thomas' Electric Oil. Never saw a medicine in my life that gave such universal satisfaction. Cured an ulcerated sore throat for me in twenty-four hours; never failed to relieve my children of croup." C. R. Hall, druggist, Granville, Ill.

Sold by Palmer & Stevens and Sherer & Co.

Fourth of July Accidents.

There were a number of accidents in this city yesterday and last evening, all caused by the explosion of gunpowder and fire-works. The following list is as near complete as we are able to make it at this time:

A son of Mr. M. A. Ott was struck on the leg by a rocket, making only a flesh wound.

Rev. Mr. Brown, of the Presbyterian church, burned his hand severely while exhibiting fire-works for his children.

Widow Holleran's little boy, of the second ward, burned his face and hands severely by the explosion of a bottle of gunpowder.

Mr. Burr Jackson's little boy had his hands and face badly burned by the premature discharge of a small cannon.

A young man, whose name we did not learn, had his head terribly cut by the explosion of the "mine" in the park.

A boy named Conroy, had the fingers of both hands badly burned while lighting a spinning wheel.

A little boy from the country was slightly burned by running into the trail of a rocket.

A son of Mr. John Clark, of the second ward, had his face and head badly cut by being struck by a rocket.

George E. Benway, son of George Benway, was struck by a rocket while in the park last evening, and sustained a deep cut on the left temple. The boy's hat was also destroyed, by being torn to pieces by the same rocket.

James Wright, the nine-year-old son of Joseph Wright, who resides on Milton avenue, had his left thigh and left hand badly burned yesterday. A bunch of firecrackers which the boy had in his pocket became ignited, and in his endeavors to take them from his pocket, he burned his hand and thigh severely.

Frank Main, and a young man named Yuengst, each had an eye hurt by the explosion of a piece of fire-works of which there was a defect in the manufacture.

Strength for Mind and Body.

There is more strength restoring power in a bottle of Parker's Ginger Tonic than in a bushel of malt or a gallon of milk. This explains why invalids find it such a wonderful invigorant for mind and body.

Personal.

—First Sergeant Charles C. Russell, of St. John's military school, at Manlius, N. Y., is at home spending his vacation with his mother, Mrs. John Winans.

—Mr. and Mrs. George H. Wheelock, of South Bend, Indiana, are in the city visiting the parents of the former, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Wheelock. They will remain in the city several days, and will then visit Mrs. Wheelock's parents, Judge and Mrs. J. B. Cassoday.

—Mr. Alex. Galbraith, of Scotland, who has been visiting his brothers in this city for the past four weeks, left this morning for a short visit in Illinois. He will start for home from New York in about one week, well pleased with his short visit in the United States and with the celebration of the Fourth of July in Janesville, which he participated in yesterday.

—Mr. Charles A. Potter, passenger agent of the Chicago and Northwestern railway in this city, has been granted a leave of absence of two months by his company. For years Mr. Potter has filled the position he now holds, giving his whole time and attention to the duties of the office, rarely being absent from his post under any circumstances. He now feels that rest must be taken as a matter of necessity, and during his vacation he will probably visit the Yellowstone national park, and other points of interest. The town is full of Mr. Potter's friends, and they will wish him a pleasant vacation and very much improvement in health. He will probably leave the city next week.

Our readers will find all the medicines advertised in this paper at Prentice & Evenson's drug store, opposite the postoffice. They keep all the principal patent medicines in the market, and undoubtedly have the largest stock in the city.

The Monona Lake Assembly.

The Sunday school assembly of 1883 will convene July 24, with greater attractions than ever before. A tabernacle has been built, beside other buildings and improvements for the convenience and comfort of those who attend. The assembly is now a fixture, the beautiful grounds which at first were rented, have been purchased and will be kept for the assembly's permanent camp. For beauty they are unsurpassed, situated one mile from Madison, our State capitol, and can be reached by cars, carriages or steam boats. Tents can be bought or rented. Board can be had on the grounds at the dining hall, or at hotels and private boarding houses. There is no way in which a couple of weeks can be spent more pleasantly and more profitably than at the Lake Monona assembly encampment.

There is no way in which more, if so much can be secured for so small an outlay of money.

At an expense of from one dollar to one dollar and fifty cents per day, a person can secure board and lodging in one of the most delightful summer resorts in the country, while in addition to all the advantages of country air, beautiful scenery and recreation, they can have the benefit of lectures, concerts, and other interesting exercises that could not be secured in any other way for less than from fifteen to twenty dollars.

Programmes will be out in a few days and can be had of J. T. Wright, of this city.
